

Fine Art and High Value home insurance underwritten by Lloyd's

We specialise in insuring the homes, fine art and collectibles for high net worth individuals with international lifestyles. This specific focus allows us to offer broader cover and a truly personal service.

Whether an apartment in Stockholm, a chalet in Switzerland or an art collection in Paris – you can protect all your valuable personal assets with insurance of the highest international standards.

For us, “who” we insure is as important as “what” we are insuring. Understanding your needs and requirements allows us to offer insurance solutions specifically designed for your personal circumstances. Our aim is to live up to your expectations when a claim occurs.

Brookfield

Personal service – A tailored insurance solution built around your needs and lifestyle.

Wider cover – All protection provided on an “all risks” and “new for old” basis. This means fewer exclusions, and all damage repaired or replaced without deduction for age or wear and tear.

No haggling – Individual item values can agreed up front so that there is no discussion when a claim occurs.

Worldwide cover – Your personal effects, fine art and jewellery are covered outside your home anywhere in the world, even when in the care of shippers, restorers or auction houses.

Specialist approach – If a listed item is damaged it will not just be repaired – the cover also automatically includes payment for the loss of market value following repair or restoration.

Simplified administration – A single policy for all your homes, fine art and collectibles across Europe. No more gaps or overlaps in cover and the convenience of a single yearly review.

“We spent an huge amount of time and effort renovating our house to its original condition. It’s great to know that it will be rebuild to same exacting standards should a claim occur”.
Owner of a turn-of-the-century villa outside Stockholm.

“Using a specialist took a lot of worry away, particularly when I relocated and had to move some of my collection to my new home abroad”.
Private art collector in Belgium

“We liked the breadth of cover, but also the convenience of having all our homes on a single policy”.
Owner of an apartment in central Stockholm and a bastide in Provence.

Claims handling

Your claim will be handled quickly and efficiently, thanks to the care we take in understanding our clients' needs and our specialist's approach to higher value homes and fine art.

Where required we use independent specialist claims professionals to help you quantify a loss and manage the repair or replacement process.

Our clients

Our policy and custom-made approach is well suited to individuals who have contents, fine art and other collectibles in excess of €500,000 or who own homes in more than one country.

Other products

We also provide high quality insurance for:

- Classic cars and motorcycles
- Museums and exhibitions
- Orchestras and musical instruments
- Historical archives.

Claims examples

Water and antique wooden floors

Water from a leaking pipe damaged the antique oak flooring in the corner of our client's living room. Repairing only the damaged section would leave the floor looking uneven. Our policy therefore covered the cost to renovate the whole room, restoring the flooring to the same visual appeal as before the claim.

Lost handbag

In her hurry to arrive on time for a flight, our client forgot her handbag on the train, losing a laptop, mobile phone and other personal effects. She was happily surprised to receive financial compensation from us allowing her to replace the bag and its contents with identical new items. Our policy replaces all personal effects on a "new-for-old" basis, even if lost outside the home, without reduction for age or the deduction of an excess.

Bad luck at the art auction

Whilst transporting his newly-acquired painting home from the auction-house, our client accidentally caused a tear in the canvas. With our "new acquisitions" cover, the picture was already insured – despite not having been added to the policy, and we paid the restoration costs as well as the resulting loss in market value.
